

SWIDERSKI

Art + Architecture

KIDS

Does your child think outside the box? Are you finding them always changing their bedroom around? Building forts with anything they can find? These creative qualities can be celebrated in a new after school program that takes a different approach to learning through art-making, self-directed, and project based techniques.

Swiderski Art + Architecture KIDS empowers youth by introducing children ages 7-16 how to develop the skills to be an mini Architect! This program is directly correlated to B.C. new S.T.E.M curriculum with lessons in how to develop a concept, sketching/drawing, model making, and presentation skills. Students will gain knowledge in scale/proportion, light/shadow, dimensions, materials of their contextual surroundings, and sustainability.

Students will engage individually and collaboratively to create dynamic, functional, and unique projects. Areas to be explored will be:

- Architecture
- Landscape Architecture
 - City Planning
 - Interior Design
 - Public Art
- Industrial Design

mini ARCHITECT

after-school Architecture program for youth

McMillan Arts Center

- Thursdays, Sept 7 to Nov 23
- Age: 13-16 years
- $390 + GST (1.5 hour class x 12 weeks; 4:30 – 6:00pm)

McMillan Arts Center

- Mondays, Sept 11 to Nov 27
- Age: 7-12 years
- $390 + GST (1.5 hour class x 12 weeks; 3:30 – 5:00pm)

I am an Architectural Designer and Public Artist. In 2010, I graduated with an Environmental Design degree, specializing in Architecture and in later years completed fabrication courses in the Sculpture and Installation program at OCAD in Toronto, ON. I have won three National Public Art projects that speak to my Indigenous descent and I continue to facilitate workshops that engage with my community. Ideas of repetition and how to create an experience through space are key aspects of each project that I complete. I strive to teach youth about their environment and how to be sustainable in each design decision. Vancouver Island is an inspiring place to be creative and learn from the land.

Registration

Please call/email

250-586-5598

destiny.swiderski@gmail.com

